More Music

Hello

As a community music and education charity we rely on the generous support of people like you. We run a busy programme from our building in the West End of Morecambe as well as delivering events and festivals.

390

music-making sessions took place here in Morecambe

600

of you registered as participants

33,000

of you enjoyed live music with us

The health benefits of music making are well-known, and we work with Bay Medical Group and with our Young Person's Social Prescriber to ensure that those who need a helping hand can reap the benefits of music with us:

"I HAVE GAINED CONFIDENCE AND A WEEKLY ROUTINE. IT'S THE ONLY EVENT I ALWAYS WALK TO, EVEN IF IT'S RAINING."

Seagull Café Member

"IT'S ONE OF THE MOST SOCIAL THINGS IN MY WEEK. THE ONLY PROBLEM IS HOW FAST IT GOES - TWO HOURS FLIES BY."

Stages Participant

If you would like to join the many people who support us, you could:

- Attend a session, or pay for someone else to
- Buy tickets to a gig (and bring your friends!)
- Choose More Music to be the beneficiary of your fundraising event
- Take on a charity challenge for More Music
- Join our Cross Bay Fundraising Walk
- Donate directly as a one-off payment or a monthly donation via PayPal
- Donate to More Music through shopping online at no extra cost to you through Easy Fundraising
- Text the number 70085 with the words MOREMUSIC plus the amount in pounds you would like to donate from 1 - 20 e.g. MOREMUSIC5 would donate £5.

EDDI READER

With 10 critically acclaimed solo albums, 3 BRIT awards, a number 1 single and an MBE in tow, Eddi Reader has effortlessly developed into one of popular music's most thrilling and affecting performers. What sets Eddi apart is the depth and quality of the emotional performance and ability to not only move the listener, but connect her experience to that of her audience. No two performances are ever the same.

From the traditional to the contemporary she brings joyous life to all forms of song.

Age suitability 14+

Richard Dawson performs songs from his latest album 'End of the Middle', a wonkily beautiful peer into the workings of the family unit: "I wanted this record to be small-scale and very domestic; to be stripped back, stark and naked, and let the lyrics and melodies speak for themselves and for the people in the songs".

Not only do you have Dawson at his most exposed but you have a platform for his tunes to really shine: "I wanted to show all of the nuts and bolts," he says, "so you can really see the songwriting."

DAUDI MATSIKO

British-Ugandan singer-songwriter Daudi Matsiko's debut album, 'The King Of Misery', is a hauntingly beautiful exploration of depression, bipolar disorder, and finding hope in that experience. His fragile yet powerful vocals, evocative lyrics, and modern folk melodies have earned high praise from Gilles Peterson, Jamz Supernova, Dean Jackson, Sian Eleri, Jamie Cullum and Tom Robinson.

More Music's programmer, Ben McCabe, was spellbound by Matsiko's performance of his cyclical, intimate anthem 'I Am Grateful For My Friends' at the Black Lives in Music showcase at English Folk Expo and has been hoping to bring him to Morecambe ever since.

'Broken folk' duo Lunatraktors rework Anglo-Celtic ballads with influences from trip-hop, flamenco and post punk, stripping down folk to the basics of rhythm and voice.

Jefferson's hybrid of tap, flamenco and body percussion, developed after touring with STOMP, meets Le Couteur's overtone singing and 3+ octave range. Building on this, their sound expands from vocal harmony and dance into eclectic acoustic beats, accordion, whistles and analogue synth baselines. The evening kicks off with a dance performance from Aimee Williamson.

CLASH

BRYONY JARMAN-PINTO

Bryony Jarman-Pinto seamlessly blends enchanting vocals and spellbinding jazz-infused melodies with intricately crafted and personal lyrics, drawing inspiration from soul and folk influences.

Taking inspiration from the vocalists and musicians she used to fall asleep listening to as a child, there is a jazz core at the heart of her music. Her recent music navigates themes from societal change and untapped emotions, to the profound journey of pregnancy and motherhood. This emotional depth is complemented by Bryony's distinctive, harmonious vocals.

Bryony Jarman-Pinto enchanted a capacity crowd at Lancaster Jazz Festival 2024 and is currently working with More Music's Early Years team.

THREE DEGREES FESTIVAL

Just three degrees of temperature rise would result in environmental disaster but if we all used our three degrees of influence to spread messages of positive action, we can make a difference.

A vibrant community festival co-produced by More Music's Eco Collective featuring live music, visual arts and fun, creative workshops for all ages and abilities plus information stalls from environmental organisations. All themed around climate change and the sustainable steps we can take to make a difference as a community.

SOCIAL PRESCRIBING

More Music works with Bay Medical Group, Integrated Care Community, Child & Adolescent Mental Health Service and Stanleys to provide Young Person's Social Prescribers in Morecambe.

These roles support and empower young people, encouraging them to take control of their health and lifestyle choices. Working towards goals and positive wellbeing by focussing on what matters to them is a key part of this.

Social Prescribing can support:

- Lifestyle changes
- Connecting with groups and activities in the community
- Supportive conversations
- Improved health and wellbeing

SCHOOL SESSIONS

More Music provides musicmaking workshops for schools that are high quality and fully participatory. We involve all pupils and staff in fun and inspiring musical activities during school hours and for afterschool clubs, as well as one-offs such as reward days and school arts festivals.

We deliver inclusive and creative music sessions that get everyone playing, regardless of age or ability. You could book one session, a full term or an academic year, just get in touch and let us know how we can help.

BURSARY PLACES

If cost is a barrier to attending our sessions either for you or someone you know, please email info@moremusic.org.uk and ask about our free bursary places.

"EAT, SING, CHAT, REPEAT – PLEASE KEEP THIS GOING IT'S HAVING A POSITIVE IMPACT ON OUR LIVES."
